Berchtesgaden Tour (Full day)

Take a day to explore the impressive natural bounty along the German Alpine Road, coupled with a bit of history, as you take in a few sites used by the Third Reich at the height of World War II. Offering a bit of past and present, you're sure to have a day to remember. After a scenic drive along the German Alpine Road, amidst the remarkable peaks of the Alps, you'll make your way to Berchtesgaden. A classical village high in the Alps, gaze at the beautiful dark pines set against a blue sky, before heading up onto the Obersalzberg mountain. Take in the stunning views of the rich landscapes set before you, and appreciate the fact that this beauty was also the scenic backdrop to a darker time in history. Still with many remnants of years spent as one of Hitler's mountain retreats, the site contains a labyrinth of bunkers prepared by the Nazi's for protection during their reign. Take a visit to the NS Documentation Centre, which provides visitors with historic information and places many of the structures you see around you in context with their importance to the Third Reich. Board a special bus, followed by an elevator straight through rock, to be brought to the Eagle's Nest, built by the Nazi party for Hitler's 50th birthday. Explore this unique side to World War II history, before heading down to make your return.

Dachau Concentration Camp (6 hours)

Meet your guide at the Train Station for a private visit to Dachau Concentration Camp. This tour will lead you through the museum, barracks, and original buildings including the bunker, the crematorium and gas chamber of Dachau Concentration Camp Memorial. Your guide's stories will help you to get a deep understanding of how and why the Dachau Concentration Camp was created, and operated until its liberation. Dachau was the first of the Nazi Concentration Camps in Germany and was opened in 1939, originally intended to hold political prisoners only. Later it became a camp of forced labor with over 200,000 inmates during its 12 years of operation. The place became an "Academy of Terror", a role-model and a training ground of vast brutality, killing around 40,000 people from 34 nations before it was liberated in 1945 by the American army.

The capital of the state of Bayern is an undiscovered treasure chest of lesser known stories and local legends. It is about the love story of King Ludwig I and Lola Montez, a Spanish dancer who ignited a Revolution, or about the not so "Mad King", Ludwig II, one of the most misunderstood crowned heads of Europe; it is about the hometown. Be amazed by the views of the Old and new Town Hall, Glockenspiel, Cathedral Frauenkirche, Viktualienmarkt.
