Why vacation in a Health Resort? The custom of combining a vacation with a program to improve health is far from new. From the ancient Romans onward through centuries, generation after generation have followed this practice. The spa resort environment is designed to relax, refresh and recharge the body and spirit. Under the direction of the spa physicians, an individualized therapy plan is developed. The treatment begins with relaxation therapy, including a warm bath, body massages and mud packs. After that, exercise - either passive or active - is introduced. At each stage, patients get psychological support. There are also discussions focusing on nutrition and beneficial effects of a customized dietary plan. After only a week of therapy, you will notice positive changes in your body. To achieve maximum results from your spa vacation, the recommended length of stay is three weeks. By the end of the third week, you will be completely revitalized and rejuvenated. Hungary is very rich in healing thermal waters. About half a million cubic meters of thermal water rushes up everyday from natural springs and drilled wells throughout the country.

Medicinal waters are used in two basic ways...

First - for bathing - and second - as a curing drink. Bathing for medical purposes has a millennial past in Europe. Bathing had various functions among ancient people. Hippocrates examined the utilization of medicinal waters for treatment. Several of this conclusions are still valid today. A new prospering era of balneology - the science of medicinal waters - together with hydrotherapy - or water cure - started in the 19th century. The aspects of hydrotherapy have changed significantly during the last few decades. Today's treatments are not restricted to use medicinal waters only. A contemporary "spa physician" is a rheumatologist, internist or gynecologist with a wide range of knowledge. A complex therapy including the use of medicinal waters, physical exercise, massages, electro-therapy and a diet plan shows better and quicker results. The Romans were the first to build baths on the territory of today's Hungary, 2,000 years ago. Eleven baths have been excavated in the northern part of Budapest, that were left behind by the Romans. Budapest is known as the "Spa Capital of the World". There are over 100 medicinal water springs in Budapest alone. After the daily treatments, patients may enjoy all the advantages of a great European city: theater, sightseeing, excursions, museums and shopping. Numerous metropolitan spa hotels were built in the last decade to cater to the needs of international and Hungarian clientele. In these contemporary hotels, basic balneotherapy and complete spa therapy are available together with beauty treatments and diet plans. The countryside Spa Resorts, such as Hévíz and Bük are located in the most picturesque region of Hungary. Basic balneotherapy and the highly efficient complete spa therapy is available in a serene countryside setting. After treatments, enjoy the scenery, the great outdoors and get acquainted with the neighboring historical small towns, castles and villages. You may visit Sopron or Kőszeg with their intact medieval city centers or the magnificent Eszterhazy Castle in Fertőd - often referred to as the Hungarian Versailles.

Margaret Island was opened to the public in 1896 but until 1900, when the connecting link with Margaret bridge was built, the only access was by boat. Baths were built on the island around the end of the 19th century to exploit the natural waters. Since then, it's been one of the most popular recreational areas in Budapest. Since no cars are allowed on the island, it is a great place for long walks. A public bus line connects the island with the Pest side of the capital and during the summer months ferry boats run frequently from Pest to the island. Cars may drive to the parking lot and the garage of the Thermal Hotel and Grand Hotel at the northern tip of the island. Close to the hotels, there is the open-air theater of the State Opera House with performances during the summer months.

Ensana Thermal Margaret Island Hotel was completed in 1979 as the world's first ever metropolitan health resort hotel. The hotel has 285 air-conditioned guestrooms and 8 suites. All rooms have a balcony, minibar & satellite TV. The hotel's Platán restaurant offers international, Hungarian and dietetic menus. The Spa Therapy Section has the most comprehensive installation of thermal bath and physiotherapy equipment, including thermal pools, sauna, underwater jet massage, carbon gas bath, inhalation, electrotherapy, therapeutic gymnastics, massage, mudpack and solarium. Dental plan is available.

Margaret Island, where the thermal water was brought to the surface in 1866, is only 10 minutes driving from downtown. The island wedges gracefully between the Buda and Pest sides of the Danube River and it is filled with flowers and trees. This surrounding is ideal to relax, refresh and renew the body and spirit. During the Mongol invasion of 1242-44, King Béla vowed, that if Hungary were victorious, his daughter Margit would be brought up as a nun. In fact, she lived on the island until her death in 1271. At the end of the 19th century, the island was named after her. Margit is the Hungarian version of Margaret. Margaret was beautified after her death at the age of 29 in 1271 and she was canonized nearly 600 years later in 1943.

Ensana Grand Margaret Island Hotel celebrates its 148th anniversary in 2021 with all the traditional atmosphere of the last century and the modern comfort of today's requirements. It has 164 rooms, including 10 suites. The legendary Széchenyi restaurant serves international, dietetic and Hungarian menus. Now the "ancient" Grand Hotel is offering full therapy services like the Ensana Thermal Margaret Island Hotel, since an underground tunnel connects the two hotels. Under the direction of the spa physicians, a customized therapy plan is developed for each patient.

Héviz Lake

The 12 acre Thermal Lake at Héviz has been known and used since the Roman times. It is fed by natural hot springs, which enables the lake's water to be changed within 3 days. The lake is the largest one of its kind in the world. The mildly radioactive water contains sulfur, alkalis, carbonate of hydrogen and principally calcium salts. The spring produces 86 million liters of water a day. The thermal water gushing up from the crater keeps the mass of water in a constant slow motion.

The temperature of the lake is 92°-96° Fahrenheit in the summer and 80° Fahrenheit in the winter. Guests can use the waters of the lake all year round - indoors or outdoors. A cloud of fine vapor over the lake is a special sight to see. The high degree of evaporation not only makes open air bathing more pleasant on the coldest winter days, but also positively influences the climate around the lake.
